A Vesper Hymn.

The evening bells of Sabbath fill
The dusky silence of the night;
And through our gathering gloom distill
Sweet sparkles of immortal light.
Such hours of peace as these respite
The labors of the weary week,
When thus with souls refreshed and bright,
Forgiveness of our sins we seek!

Our wayward footsteps wander wide,
Pursuing Joy's delusive rays;
And, in our hours of health and pride,
Too oft from Thee our spirit strays;
But soon descend the darker days,
When truth and strength their luster hide,
And, journeying through a pathless maze,
We turn to our neglected Guide!

Lead back, oh Lord, Thy wandering sheep—
Oh, guide us gently to Thy fold!
Instruct us all Thy laws to keep,
And unto Thine our lives to mold!
For we are weak, and faith grows cold—
Nor ever sleep the Tempter's powers;
Thou art our only stay and hold—
Through Thee alone can Heaven be ours!

A darker shade, a denser gloom,
Descends on all the folded flowers;
While, silent as the voiceless tomb
Above them roll the midnight hours.
To-morrow's dawn, and their perfume
Again will fill their glowing bowers—
Lord, after death, so bid us bloom,
Where no frost chills, no tempest lowers!

INHABITANTS OF THE HUMAN BODY.—What think you, reader, of your body being a planet inhabited by living races, as we inhabit the earth? Whatever may be your thought on the subject, the fact is even so. Your body is but a home for parasites, that crawl over its surface, burrow beneath its skin, nestle in its entrails, and riot and propagate their kind in every corner of its frame.

The sensation in regard to trichina in swine flesh, has set the scientific to knocking heads together, and the result is the following facts: Parasites not only inhabit the bodies of all animals used by us as food, but they are also found in abundance in our organization. The species trichina spiralis, of which so much is said, and whose existence has been discovered in pork, is according to our best anatomists, found in almost every muscle of the human body. It lies all along the fibres of the muscles, enveloped in little cysts of sacs, about one-fourth of an inch in length. It can be distinctly seen and examined only by the use of the microscope.

An English authority says: "It is a notorious fact that numerous parasites do crawl over our surface, burrow beneath our skin, nestle in our entrails, and riot and propagate their species in every corner of the frame. Nearly a score of animals belonging to the interior of the human body have already been discovered and described; and scarcely a tissue or an organ but is occasionally profaned by their inroads. Each also has its special or favorite domicile. One species of strongle chooses the heart for its dwelling place, another inhabits the ateries, a third the kidneys. Myriads of minute worms lie coiled up in the voluntary muscles, or in the ærolar tissue that connects the fleshy fibres. The guinea worms and the chique bore through the skin and reside in the subjacent reticular membrane. Hydatids infest various parts of the body, but especially the liver and brain.

"A little flake, in general appearance much like flounder, lives steeped in gall in the biliary vessels. If you squeeze from the skin on your nose what is vulgarly called a maggot—the contents, namely, of one of the hair follicles—it is ten to one you will find in that sebaceous cylinder several animalculæ, exhibiting under the microscope a curious complicated structure. Even the eye has its living inmates. With this knowledge of our composition, it matters but little how many entozoa we consume, so long as we do not see them; it is nothing more than all ages have done before us. We might, with as much propriety, refuse to drink water which, however pure, is fairly alive with animalculæ, as to refrain from the use of meat because it exhibits (under the microscope) entozoa.

HOW MUCH good a single word may do, especially if it be spoken by one in an influential position. A word from a merchant to his clerks when he pays them their wages, a word from a physition to his patients whose confidence he is so likely to win, a word from the lady of the house to her servant or her casual help, for which so many fitting opportunities offer themselves, may accomplish more than reams of sermons in the same direction. A one-armed soldier met Gen Howard in the cars recently, and thus addressed him: "Excuse me, General, for saying a few words. I want to tell you of a conversation I had with you in camp. I went to you for permission to get some whisky. You refused, and asked me if I ever drank. I replied that I did sometimes on picket. Then you said something to me which made me resolve never again to drink a drop of intoxicating liquors. I have not tasted strong drink since, and I think now that I am a Christian, too, as a result of your remarks to me."

HER HEAD WAS CLEAR.—The Sacramento Record relates the following: Women are not always the unobserving handy-to-have-about-the-house little innocents that some of the lords of creation take them for; they reason with more clever heads in many cases than their self-conceited masculine friends, as witness a little dialogue which we everheard a day or two since between two of them: "Why don't you trade at —— store; you always buy somewhere else?" asked one lady of another; and here was the answer: "I'll tell you why; I never go where I am not invited; they might get new goods as many times as you like in a year, and one would never be the wiser of it from them through the papers. A man that has not got energy or liberality enough to advertise his business, has not enough to trade with me." We suggest that if some parties cut this out and paste it in their cash books the balance may prove more satisfactory this year than last.

THE "oldest inhabitant" has been reading the New York World's articles on the adulteration of liquors, and has arrived at a somewhat singular conclusion. The analysis of those liquors showed an average of about 65 parts of water to 35 of spirits. "They don't give the spirits a fair chance," said that aged bacchanal; "they'll keep on fooling with water till it depopulates the earth again."

Geology of California.

We cannot assertain how many hundreds of thousands or millions of years have passed away since California arose from the deep, but in geological eras the country is new. The chief means of determining the age of rocks is by the fossils which they contain. The earth has had various kinds of animals at various epochs, each epoch having a higher fauna than the one which preceded it. The fishes lived before there were any reptiles; the reptiles before there were any birds; the birds lived before there were any animals; and the mammalian brutes had existed long before man appeared. Each of the latter epochs had its peculiar form of animal life; and it is by an examination of the remains of these animals, that the age of sedimentary rocks are determined. These remains may be so small that the naked eye cannot distinguish them; and Professor Brewer has several specimens which cannot be investigated without the microscope. None of the large Saurians—those wonderful lizaards as large as whales—have yet been found here; but our hills and mountains contain the bones of the mastadon, the elephant, the rhinosceros, the hippopotamus, the horse, the camel, the whale and an animal resembling the tapir. These all lived once in California. Oyster shells fifteen inches long are found near Corral Hollow, and amonites abound in Shasta county—some of them a foot and a half in diameter. Our climate must have been tropical in the erea of this extinct fauna; our valleys were great swamps; our mountains were covered with a luxuriance of vegetation which now exclusively belong to the equatorial regions. Man lived at the same time; man in the lowest state of savageism, when the highest operation of his skull was to make an arrow-head or spear-head of flint or obsidian.

The oretaceous formation which contains all our valuable coal and quicksilver, extends the entire length of the American coast, from San Diego to Bellingham Bay. About two hundred and fifty-five fossils, of which 95 per cent. are of new species, have been found in this formation. The fossils found in the Jurassic gold-bearing rocks of the Sierra have not yet been worked up.

From Mount Shasta to San Jacinto, all the high peaks of the Sierra are in a straight line. North of thirty-eight degrees the peaks are volcanic. From the summit of Lassen's Peak, thirty craters of extinct volcanoes are visible. The evidence of their activity is found in a body of lava that covers ten thousand square miles, which with a shape something like a pear, extends from the vicinity of Oroville to Mount Shasta, which it surrounds. Appearances indicate that the top of Mount Shasta, for twelve thousand feet from the summit downward is lava. The platean of the Sierra Nevada or high table land in Plumas and the eastern part of Shasta county, is covered with lava which buries the gold so deep that the miners can reach it only in a few places where the streams cut through it to the slate beneath. The auriferous slate is very narrow in the southern part of the Sierra Nevada; but it widens out gradually as it approaches north, and the richest diggings have been found near the edge of the great bed of lava, which hides countless millions of gold from the miner.

South of latitude thirty-eight degrees there are no volcanoes, active or extinct in the Sierra Nevada; and the highest points rise but one thousand feet above the general level of the range, while at the north the peaks rise from three thousand to eight thousand feet above the surrounding mountains.

DIDN'T WANT TO MARRY.—We heard a good joke on a resident of Dog Creek the other day. The party referred to is a bachelor and lives on the wagon road. A few days ago an emigrant wagon from Oregon came along and camped near our friend's place. The head of the family soon made himself acquainted with the proprietor of the premises, and asked him why he didn't get a woman to deep house for him. The answer was that he intended to marry just as soon as a woman willing to enter into the bonds of matrimony could be found. The Oregonian remarked that he could find him a partner if he would take her. The bachelor said that was right into his hand, and the emigrant invited him to his camp. The Oregonian called up a bouncing damsel of abont twenty years, and informed her that the gentleman accompanying him was "on the marry," and willing to take her for better or for worse. The damsel, delighted with the prospect, advanced, and seizing our friend by the hand, assured him that she was glad to meet him, and was ready to marry him at the drop of a hat, while the old lady hastened up and congratulated her "darter" on her good luck. Surprised and alarmed at the serious turn matters had taken, our friend, who is constitutionally opposed to the institution of matrimony, endeavored to explain by saying he was only joking and did not want to marry. At this the Oregonian became highly indignant, and the would-be bride requested her father to take his rifle and "drap the varmint in his tracks." At this affectionate suggestion the bachelor left for his fortification, the last thing he heard being the voice of the old lady consoling her disappointed "darter" with the remark that it was best to "let the bilk go, as he weren't man enough to do her anyhow."—[Shasta Courier.

QUIETING A TITLE.—At White Pine they do things queerly and often in a hurry. They don't squabble and quarrel much for they do not have time. A man might make a million of money in the time it takes to settle a small dispute. A friend relates the following as having occurred at Treasure City: A small, but wiry-looking man located a tent on a piece of ground and stuck out his business sign. A big fellow rode up on horseback and told the squatter that the lot belonged to him, and that the squatter had better leave. The little fellow remarked: "Just get down, and if you can put me out you can have the lot." The big fellow dismounted without another word and they both peeled and pitched in. There were no referees nor judges, but there was a lively fight for about two minutes and the big fellow was whipped. He got up, climbed to the top of his steed and remarked to the little man, "Good morning—the lot is yours," and rode off. The wager of battle quieted that land title.—[Grass Valley Union.

A Bore.

Talking of a man's making a hero of himself reminds me of an old friend of mine, who is fond of telling long stories about fights and quarrels that he has had in his day, and who always makes his hearer his opponent for the time, so as to give effect to what he is saying. Not long ago I met him at a business hour, when all the commercial multitudes of the city were together, and you could scarcely turn for the people. The old fellow fixed his eye on me; there was a fatal fascination in it. Getting off without recognition would have been unpardonable disrespect. In a moment his finger was in my button-hole, and his rheumy optics glittering with the satisfaction of your true bore when he has met with an unresisting subject. I listened to his common-places with the utmost apparent satisfaction. Directly he began to speak of an altercation which he had once with an officer in the navy. He was relating the particulars. "Some words," said he, "occurred between him and me. Now you know that he is a much younger man than I am—in fact about your age. Well, he made use of an expression which I did not exactly like. Says I to him, says I, what do you mean by that? Why, says he to me, says he, I mean just what I say. Then I began to burn. There was an impromptu elevation of my personal dandruff which was unaccountable. I didn't waste words on him; I just took him—I just took him in this way—(here the old chap suited the action to the word, by seizing the collar of my coat before the assemblage)—and says I to him, says I, you infernal scoundrel, I will punish, punish you for your insolence on the spot! and the manner in which I shook him (just in this way) was really a warning to a person similarly situated."

I felt myself at this moment in a beautiful predicament—in the midst of a large congregation of business people, an old gray-headed man hanging, with an indignant look at my coat-collar and a host of persons looking on. The old fellow's face grew redder every minute; but perceiving that he was observed, he lowered his voice in the detail, while he lifted it in the worst places of his colloquy. "You infernal scoundrel and caitiff and villain," says I, "what do you mean, to insult an elderly person like myself, in a public place like this; and then," said he, lowering his malapropos voice, "then I shook him so." Here he pushed me to and fro, with his septuagenarian gripe on my collar, as if instead of a patient, much-bored friend I was his deadly enemy. When he let go, I found myself in a ring of spectators. "Shame! shame! to insult an old man like him!" was the general cry. "Young puppy!" said an elderly merchant, whose good opinion was my heart's desire, "what excuse have you for your conduct?"

Thus was I made a martyr to my good feelings. I have never recovered from the stigma of that interview. I have been pointed at in the street by persons who have said as I passed them, "That's the young chap that insulted old General —— at the exchange."

WHAT OUR STATE PRODUCES.—No State in the Union, and perhaps no country in the world, possesses such a variety of soil and climate—such a capacity for general production—as does California. In addition to all the valuable products of agriculture grown in the Middle States, there are produced in California, cotton, figs, lemons, oranges, castor beans, olives, (and olive oil,) and almonds. All these can be produced in abundance, and the soil in every locality is well adapted for the production of rice. There is scarcely a branch of agriculture that cannot be profitably engaged in in this State—scarcely an article of commercial value—the result of agricultural pursuits—which cannot be produced in this State. We append a list of all the agricultural and pastoral products which experience has demonstrated can be profitably produced in this State, under intelligent management: Wheat, barley, oats, hay, corn, rye, buckwheat, peas, peanuts, beans, castor beans, potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, flax, hops, tobacco, beets, turnips, parsnips, pumpkins, squashes, (and every variety of garden vegetables,) cotton, silk, broom-corn, butter, cheese, wool, honey, apples, peaches, pears, plums, cherries, nectarines, quinces, apricots, figs, lemons, oranges, olives, prunes, almonds, mulberries, walnuts, gooseberries, raspberries, strawberries, blackberries, grapes, wine, brandy, cattle, hogs, horses, sheep, Cashmere and Angora goats, goats, all manner of fowls, flour, lumber, a variety of cloths, leather, gold, silver, copper, tin, manganese, coal, asphaltum, cement, etc. If here are not more elements of wealth and commercial prosperity than are offered by any other State in the Union, or country in the world, we are sadly at fault in our calculations.—[Call.

CURIOUS PHENOMENON.—A correspondent of a Rochester paper writes:

On entering a Third avenue street car, in New York, one morning last winter, at the Sixty-sixth street depot, I was pleased to find the floor strewn with rye straw. This car had stood upon the track during the latter part of the night, while she straw was in it. The frost upon the windows gave a perfect photograph of the straw, and every passenger looked with wonder and admiration upon the beautiful frost paintings.

A few evenings since, in passing a water-trough which stood under a young elm, I noticed—the moon being full—that the shadow of the tree was thrown upon the water. The next morning the trough was slightly frozen over, but behold, there was a perfect photograph of the drooping branches of the beautiful elm. Can you tell me how this was done? Has the moon gone into the photograph business, and has it been engaged in that business for a long time past?

A MOUSE NEST, feathered with fourteen dollars of greenbacks and fractionals, was found in a store at Green Bay, Wisconsin; whereupon a local paper observes: "This is a strong argument for the resumption of specie payments, as even the lower animals are growing wasteful and extravagant under an inflation of paper currency."

HORACE GREELY'S writing is horribly bad. In a recent editorial he used the words, "Jupiter Pluvius," and they appeared the next morning in print as "Inspector Phineas."

TOADYISM.

While it is our boast that we excel all other nations in one kind of grandeur and another, such as great prairies, enormous trees, immense cataracts, tremendous civil wars and overwhelming armies, it is proper to inquire if we propose to take the lead in everything.

It is enough to bring the mantle of shame to the most callous cheek to see the flunkeyism of a certain portion of the press, and especially of that vilest and lowest of all classes of papers known as Pictorials. To cull from these vile things specimens of their abject and silly bootlickings of Gen. Grant and family would be too much; but when such a journal as Harper's Weekly enters into the competition and puts itself down among the Jenkinses engaged in furnishing accurate details of the movements of the Grant family, decent people begin to wonder where this thing is going to end. Not long ago we had in all the regular pictorials representations of Gen. Grant and family going into the cars at Galena—a thrilling picture, representing a railroad platform and two or three big traveling trunks, with a very ordinary looking man in a bob-tailed coat, smoking a cigar and escorting a dumpy woman who was trying to affect the Grecian bend. This thrilling scene was presented for the sublime and reverential contemplation of the great American people, and on the next page we were shown the General and that same family on a small hillock, witnessing some of the landscape beauties of nature. In some future number may we not hope that some graphic artist will furnish us with a correct representation of a pair of Gen. Grant's old cast-off boots, or a "grouping" made up from a collection of his old cigar stumps? Perhaps the great American people may finally be taught to look upon these things with obsequious delight and read them with the same keen relish that an old-time Saxon serf wore the brass collar of his master.

THAT CONGRESSIONAL DARKEY.—After the Radical leaders ascertained beyond a doubt that their negro Congressman, Menard, would cut quite a prominent figure, and perhaps become a leader among them; also that he had an unmitigated, openly expressed scorn for carpet baggers, they concluded to apply the first pretext they could find to his rejection. Accordingly we are told that the negro was elected to fill a vacancy occasioned by the withdrawal of a member elect, and that the said member elect was illegally elected; consequently that Mr. Menard was filling an illegal vacancy, and therefore was ineligible to a seat in that august body. It is refreshing to hear this Congress talking of "legality"—a thing forgotten long ago by that body, or, if used at all, used with a new meaning, just as the law was simplified in the impeachment case and reduced to this one proposition or axiom: that "as long as a motion or measure is radical it is the law."

DISMAL PRISON.—The county jail of San Mateo county, according to report, is not the best regulated prison in the country. The Grand Jury of that county recently excused themselves for not examining the jail, in the following language:

The grand jury beg leave to say, that they would have been glad of an opportunity to have examined into the condition of the county jail, but unfortunately several of the Jurors had leaky boots, while others had boots with legs of not over eighteen inches in length, and no boats having been provided for their transportation around the premises, they were compelled to abandon any attempt to explore the jail.

Several prisoners are confined in the moist dungeon, and they find it necessary to man the pumps in order to keep from drowning.

THE STORM.—It appears that the recent rain storm was more severe in the southern portion of the State than in the northern. The city of Stockton is reported to be inundated. A portion of the San Jose and San Francisco railroad was washed away. Several breaks occurred in the California Pacific on Wednesday. The breaks have been filled with sand in gunny bags and the road is now in running order. Snow on the Placerville summit, at and above Strawberry, is from six to eight feet deep.

CONSIDERATE.—A thief in San Francisco recently entered the residence of a citizen and stole a number of valuable articles, which he pawned at one of the numerous pawnbrokers' shops in that city. He then addressed a polite note to the lady of the house, informing her that she could redeem her lost treasure by calling upon the pawnbroker, which she did and recovered the property.

STATE BONDS.—Notice is given that sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Secretary of State until 12 o'clock M., of Tuesday, March 2d, for the surrender of bonds of the funded debt of the State issued since January 1st, 1868, there being $120,000 in the Treasury for the redemption thereof. Each bid must be accompanied by a satisfactory guarantee that the bonds will be delivered.

LONG BRIDGE.—The new suspension bridge which spans the Niagara river a short distance below the Falls, was opened to the public recently. It is the longest span in the world, being 1,268 feet.

Tenure of Office Act.

The Radical press is just now worrying over the proposed repeal of the Tenure of Office Act, and in every sneaking way trying to prevent the Senate from following in the steps of the House of Representatives by repealing the whole thing unconditionally, and without a whimper of remonstrance. Harper's Weekly—very high authority among Radicals—makes some amusing confessions while trying to show that Grant ought to be happy and proud to let Congress retain the powers usurped away from Johnson. That journal says:

The arguments for repeal seem to be substantially two: one, that the law was needed to baffle the evident bad intent of the President; and the other, that it has done no good, and is likely to do none, inasmuch as the civil offices were never filled, upon the whole, with a worse class of gentlemen than the present occupants.

As if this delectable admission had not warned the writer that he was admitting too much against his party and the "class of gentlemen" alluded to, he proceeds to say:

There is, indeed, another consideration urged, which is plausible, but, under the actual circumstances, not cogent—that the President, as the chief executive officer of the Government, ought to appoint and remove his own agents, because, if he does not, it is unfair to hold him responsible for the proper execution of the laws.

The writer follows up these admissions with an insidious argument that however trustworthy Gen. Grant may be, any action which would now yield back any of their usurped powers would be a tacit admission on the part of Congress that the Senate was distrusted and unreliable. Perhaps Grant may be induced, either to take the Presidential office, stripped of its authority, making him a mere puppet in their hands, or, better yet, for their purposes, might be disgusted into vacating the chair for Colfax. But there is a whisper abroad that Grant is strongly hinting at managing the Presidency in his own way and regardless of the Union Leaguers and other truly loyal leaders, whose hands are now buried to their arm-pits in the money-boxes of the nation. This is the whole and sole reason why the party of plunder now halts and wavers as to its policy towards the incoming President. Let us hope that he will justify all their worst fears; for in this lies the safety and prosperity of the people.

THE POPULAR VOTE.—The electoral vote of Florida was cast by the Legislature, and Virginia, Mississippi and Texas were prohibited from voting by an Act of the Radical Congress. The votes of the States of Arkansas, Kentucky, Kansas, Missouri, Nevada, Oregon, Tennessee, West Virginia and Wisconsin, although not official, are reported and believed to be correct:

Alabama	70,221	75,501
Connecticut	47,844	50,780
Delaware	10,960	7,615

Arkansas	26,506	28,500
Tennessee	50,476	71,539
Wisconsin	79,217	91,086
Totals	2,684,524	2,988,889
		2,684,524
Grant's majority as declared		304,365

In Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, North and South Carolina, his vote was 319,334. Of this latter sum, probably four-fifths were negroes, and not one of the blacks was a lawful voter. Virginia, Mississippi and Texas were not permitted to vote. Let those facts be considered in conjunction with the one that there was a sweeping disfranchisement of the whites in the Southern States, and there can be a proper estimate made of the impudence of the Jacobin claim that the party in power is endorsed by the people Grant was elected by fraud. He was elected because of the operation of the reconstruction infamy; and denial of this fact is a denial of a plain and notorious truth. He is a minority President. He would be so, even with the negro votes, had all the States voted, and the white men of the South not have been disfranchised.

MURDERED.—A special to the Sacramento Union, dated Chicago, Feb. 9th, states that Murray McConnell, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Illinois, was murdered in his office, on that day, in Jacksonville. His skull was fractured by repeated blows from a slung-shot. No motive for the crime or clue to the perpetrator is known. McConnell had held many public positions and was father-in-law to the late ex-Senator McDougall of this State.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Union Democrat, writing from San Francisco, describes the perambulating chlorinator in the following graphic style:

Disinfecting goes on lively. Rowell's chlorinating perambulator is rushed through the principal streets every day. It is a barrel on wheels, which puffs scientific stinks from the bunghole. The general effect is strangulating. It leaves behind it a long chorus of coughs, grunts and sneezes."

WALNUT.—One of the most suitable and valuable trees for shade and ornament in this climate is the California walnut; at least it is so considered by many who have compared its merits with those of many other kinds. The walnut is one of the most productive nut-bearing trees in the State and the wood is of a superior quality.

Letter from the Capital.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23, 1869.

THE MAN AND BROTHER,

in this city, expands himself to the full capacity of his rights and privileges guaranteed him by the Congress of the nation, which has impiously endeavored to thwart the designs of the Almighty and contravene the laws of nature by the enactment of laws declaring the brainless baboon the equal of man endowed with God-given intellect. Sambo enjoys himself here; his long heel obstructs the halls of the Capitol, and his musky odor disgusts the spectators in the galleries of both houses of Congress. A sitting of one hour in the Senate gallery during the delivery of a speech by Sumner, and a ride home in the Avenue cars, renders a thorough fumigation of one's wearing apparel necessary. The Avenue cars are much patronized by our colored brothers and aromatic sisters—the Avenue being the street where all the elite of the nation are supposed to ride or walk, as they feel in humor. White men in the cars give up their seats to ladies, but the colored gentleman will press himself into four inches of space in a seat, especially should that narrow space be bounded by the silken skirts enveloping the fair form of white women. O, no! the colored brother don't assert himself! People acquainted in the city take the H street cars to avoid the negro nuisance. There has been a negro convention in session the past two days, and buck niggers with stove-pipe hats and ivory headed canes are as thick as fiddlers in the infernal regions. Fred Douglas occupied a seat yesterday in the Reporters' Gallery of the House and last night attended the reception of Speaker Colfax. There was likely to be trouble at the Inauguration ball because Mr. Nigger demanded the right of himself and Mrs. Nigger to attend. Gen. Grant fixed it up by expressing a desire that there should be no ball. Isn't our colored brother becoming a power in the land?

THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE,

Geo. C. Gorham, gave a supper to a select party of his California friends on Tuesday night. There were present William B. Carr, William B. Hunt, J. G. Denniston, Ezekiel Vreeland, Moses Flannegan, William T. Higgins, A. J. Rhoads, J. H. Nye and W. M. Stewart and a few others—and they had a very pleasant time, I am told.

Nothing of importance is transpiring in Congress, it evidently being the intention to pass all important matters of legislation over to the 41st Congress.

The newly elected members of the next Congress are arriving daily. From the Pacific Coast, Sargent and Fitch are here. Casserly is in New York. Frank Pixley arrived on the last steamer and will look about for awhile.

There will be a nice row over the Pacific Coast appointments. If Cole had sufficient life and energy he might control them; but as it is, the Secretary of the Senate, with his active brain and untiring energy, will have things very much his own way.

JENKINSIANA.—From the last Court journals we clip the following royal items:

An interesting entertainment was given in Washington, last week, at the residence of the Italian Minister, Chevalier Marcel Cerruti. This was a holiday party for children, in which a burlesque of royalty constituted a leading feature. About seventy young folks were present, and the entertainment commenced with crowing Miss Nellie Grant, daughter of the President elect, queen of the evening. She was conducted to her throne, and Master Thornton, son of the English Minister, placed by her side as her consort. After various appointments were made, the young queen announced that she was ready to deliver her royal message to her subjects. It was read by her lady-in-waiting, and was most happily expressed and enthusiastically received. The youthful subjects were then invited to draw tickets from an urn which, on being presented to the Prime Minister, were exchanged for valuable presents. The whole affair was heartily enjoyed by all present.

The children of the President's family gave a large party last week. About three hundred invitations were issued, and the great East Room presented a merry scene when all the juveniles were gathered there. Dancing was the amusement of the evening, and a magnificent supper-table was spread for the young folks. This entertainment was given by the President on the aniversary of his birth-day.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—Since our brief mention in the last number of the DEMOCRAT of the importance of organizing an agricultural society in this county, we have conversed with a number of leading citizens who favor the project. In fact, it seems that Yolo county, following in the wake of several of the principal counties of the State, begins, in earnest, to agitate the subject of such an organization, with all its natural results in the shape of fairs, exhibitions of fine stock, etc. Capital cannot be invested more beneficially for our county, nor for the parties engaged in such an enterprise, than by being applied to the organization of a society for the benefit of our stock and produce raisers. One hundred of our citizens, with a subscription of one hundred dollars each, can easily procure the land and erect upon it all the necessary buildings and enclosures required to make the usual exhibitions in every way complete and satisfactory to all parties. Good land can be procured in the vicinity of Woodland upon which to lay out exhibition grounds with race track and everything complete, and there is no reason why a county with the solid wealth and splendid resources of Yolo should not easily do what has been done already by counties rating far below us, either in produce or stock. Commencing with a cash subscription of ten thousand dollars, and with such enclosures, buildings, etc., as may barely suffice for a first exhibition, it is safe to predict that the receipts of that exhibition, to say nothing of the profits arising to the community from a large gathering of fair-goers, will be sure to augment the ability and will of the stockholders to increase, enlarge and perfect the enterprise. From this small commencement we may safely predict such an increase for the benefit of the projectors and the community as will redound more to the actual wealth and prosperity of our county than all other enterprises now attracting public attention. Such an association would create a commendable spirit of emulation among the farmers of the county, stimulate enterprise in all branches of mechanical and agricultural pursuits, and inaugurate in our midst a home project that would serve the interest, in more ways than one, of every citizen of the county. Our citizens are amply able to form the association, and we believe the practical farmers throughout the county, who are perhaps more directly interested than any other class, should take the matter in hand at once. The sooner the work is begun the sooner will the county reap the countless benefits always resulting from well regulated organizations in the interest of agriculture and the mechanical arts. We welcome the project and earnestly invite public attention to it.

BAD ROADS.—The Vallejo Chronicle of the 4th inst. says: "In proof of our assertion that there should be a railroad from Davisville to Woodland, we will state that it took from Friday morning until Sunday evening to accomplish that distance, by a party of one gentleman and three ladies, who took passage on the stage running between those two places." Such detentions do not often occur on the route. The stages generally make good time. At present, however, the roads are so muddy that it is a wonder the trip can be made at all in stages. Perhaps the iron horse will do better.

THE ladies, too, are said to have very generally accepted Plantation Bitters as a means of relieving the nervous debility and derangement of the circulation, to which so many of the sex are liable. It is certainly an agreeable restorative—so palatable indeed, that it may properly be ranked among the cordials. Its medicinal ingredients, about which no mystery is made, comprise some of the finest tonics and alteratives of the vegetable kingdom, and the vehicle in which these are administered, pure St. Croix Rum, is undoubtedly the most harmless and nutrimental of alcoholic stimulants.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.—At the next meeting of the Yolo Literary Society, on Wednesday evening, at Asbury's building, quite an interesting subject will be discussed. The question selected is: "Resolved, That the women of the United States should be allowed to exercise the right of suffrage." F. E. Baker leads in the affirmative. This subject is one of special interest to the ladies, and as there will doubtless be many of them present on the occasion, they ought to have the privilege of expressing their views before the decision is rendered by the committee of judges.

LAND SUIT.—Suit was commenced last Monday in the District Court, by Fiske & Messenger, against Messrs. Goode, Ruggles and Sill, School Trustees, to recover possession of the property claimed by the latter in behalf of the Woodland District School, also for $1,000 damages and rents at $100 per month from November 24th, 1868, till such time as the plaintiffs can oust defendants.

RAILROAD PROSPECTS.—From present appearances it is fair to presume that Woodland will soon be in direct communication, by rail, with Vallejo and Sacramento. It is reported that the contract has been let for the construction of the road from the junction at Davisville to this place. A railroad in good running order on this line would be duly appreciated at this time.

POST OFFICE REMOVED.—Postmaster Ruggles has removed all mail matter on hand and established the Postoffice at the new drug store of Ruggles & Machefert, opposite Fleishman & Kaufman's store. The new location will be more convenient for a majority of our citizens.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.—The establishment of P. Franklin, No. 102 J. street, Sacramento, is receiving a good share of patronage from abroad. This is the natural result of liberal advertising. We call attention to his new advertisement in another column.

BALL AT COTTONWOOD.—A grand Ball is to given at Hudson's new building, Cottonwood, on the 22d instant. Excellent music has been engaged for the occasion, and doubtless there will be a crowd in attendance to participate in the festivities.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—The next Quarterly Meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church, for Woodland and Cacheville circuit, will commence at Cacheville on Saturday next at 2 o'clock, P. M. Rev. J. B. Hill, of Sacramento, will officiate.

HEAVY LAND ENTRY.—Within the past week Chas. Reed has taken the necessary steps and made the first payments toward the entry of 14,851¼ acres of tule land. The land lies along the Sacramento river, between Knight's Landing and Colusa.

INCREASE.—We are indebted to a physician at Cacheville for some additional census returns, showing an increase in the population of that locality. The returns will be found in another column. Cacheville is a prosperous community.

THE MAILS.—During the week mail matter has not come to hand as regularly as desirable. The disappointment is occasioned by the almost impassable condition of the roads.

WOODLAND BANK.—The new building designed for the Woodland Bank is nearly completed, and will be ready for occupancy in a short time.

CONVALESCENT.—Deputy Sheriff Samuel McDonnell, who has been dangerously ill for two weeks past, is slowly recovering his health.

DESIRABLE CHANGE.—The unsightly benches which were procured for temporary use in the M. E. Church, in this place, have been removed and their places supplied with neat and substantial pews, which add greatly to the comfort and appearance of the house. Workmen are engaged in painting the new work, which, as we are informed, will not be ready for use for several days. The usual divine services of the Church and Sunday School will be held in Templar Hall to-morrow.

TO HEADS OF FAMILIES.—Are your little ones subject to croup? If so, don't fail to use NEWELL'S PULMONARY SURUP. A few doses given in time MAY SAVE THE LIFE OF A DARLING CHILD. Do not fail to have it on hand, if you would be safe and free from anxiety.

"IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR."—So get a bottle of DR. E. COOPER'S UNIVERSAL MAGNETIC BALM, an unequalled preparation for Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cramp. The instantaneous relief for Burns, Bruises and Sprains.

The Science of Health!

Every Man his own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

—AND—

Holloway's Ointment.

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The stomach is the great center which influences the health or disease of the system—abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, etc. The bowels sympathize by costiveness, diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent. To these the Ointment is especially antagonistic; its modus operandi is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions of the Skin,

Arising from a bad state of the blood, or chronic diseases, are eradicated and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints,

Whether in the young or old, married or single at the dawn of Womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation. They are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles a d Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stuborn diseases is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases: Bunions, burns, chapped hands, chilblains, fistula, gout, lumbago, mercurial eruptions, piles, rheumatism, ringworm, salt-rheum, scalds, skin diseases, swelled glands, sore legs, sore breasts, sore heads, sore throats, sores of all kinds, sprains, stiff joints, tetter, ulcers, venereal sores and wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—See that the words "Holloway, New York and London," appear as a watermark on every leaf of the book of directions which enfolds each box or pot. No others are genuine. A handsome reward given for information leading to the detection of counterfeiters of the medicines and venders of the deceptive articles, knowing them to be such. Sold at the manufactory, No. 80 Maiden Lane, and by druggists and medicine dealers throughout the world. A great saving by taking the large sizes. Full instructions with every box or pot. f6-1y

The Reasons for Insuring

—IN THE—

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL

Life Insurance Company,

OF BOSTON.

By the Acts of Massachusetts, incorporated into the General Statutes of 1860 and 1864, a Policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of a Married Woman, or any person or persons specified, goes to them independently of the debts and liabilities of the party who effects the policy.

An Act to Regulate the Forfeiture of Policies of Life Insurance.

Be it Enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1.—No Policy of Insurance on Life, hereafter issued by any Company chartered by the authority of this Commonwealth, shall be forfeited or become void by the non-payment of premium thereon, any further than regards the right of the party insured therein to have it continued in force beyond a certain period, to be determined as follows, to-wit: The net value of the policy, when the premium becomes due and is not paid, shall be ascertained, according to the "combined experience" or "actuaries'" rate of mortality, with interest at four per cent. per annum. After deducting from such net value any indebtedness to the company or notes held by the company against the insured, which notes if given for premium shall then be canceled, four-fifths of what remains shall be considered as a net single premium of temporary insurance, and the term for which it will insure shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the premium, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid.

SECTION 2.—If the death of the party occur within the term of temporary insurance covered by the value of the policy, as determined in the previous section, and if no condition of the insurance, other than the payment of premium shall have been violated by the insured, the company shall be bound to pay the amount of the policy the same as if there had been no lapse of premium, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, however, that notice of the claim and proof of the death shall be submitted to the company within ninety days after decease; and provided, also, that the company shall have the right to deduct from the amount insured in the policy the amount at six per cent. per annum of the premiums that had been forborne at the time of the death.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

The Hog.

O, much-abused and much-despised beast!
Men slight thee most who know thy merits least;
Who would make light of thee, must try thee first.
Then with thy praise they'll inter-lard their verse.
Without thy presence at the festive board,
Tickling the palate of creation's lord,
In bake or fry, or even in a stew,
Pray what could we, or our good housewives do?
Sore grief would seize on many a bosom stout,
If by perchance the hog should once "step out,"
And life become, 'mid all its varying scenes,
Like Sunday morning without pork and beans!

On beef and mutton Englishmen expand,
But pork's the crowning glory of our land—
Pigs are true patriots—in the Buckeye State
They die to make her Cincinnati great.
Pork to the Jew is every way unclean,
How'er prepared, with or without his bean.
Tho' Paul felt free from Moses here to swerve,
The Jew still deems it binding to observe.
We go with Paul—as every one supposes—
As for the Jew—why he may go to Moses!

A WITNESS in a trial in Winchester, England, before Mr. Baron Martin, persisted in telling what other people said, and interlarded his testimony so often with "said I" and "said he" that the counsel was utterly bewildered. The Court attempted to set the man right: "My good man tell us exactly what happened." "Yes, my lord, certainly. I said I should not have the pig." "Well, what was his answer?" "He said that he had been keeping the pig for me, and that he——" "No, no; he did not say that; he could not have said it; he spoke in the first person." "I was the first person that spoke, my lord." "I mean this—don't bring in the third person—repeat his exact words." "There was no third person, my lord; only him and me." "Look here, my good fellow, he did not say he had been keeping the pig; he said 'I have been keeping it.'" "I assure you, my lord, there was no mention of your lordship at all. We are on two different stories, my lord; there was no third person, my lord; and if anything had been said about your lordship, I must have heard it."

A NEW YORK poet has written what he calls a "modern drinking song," inscribed to the "whisky ring," and of which the following is a specimen stanza:

Fill high the bowl with fusil oil!
With tannin let your cups be crowned!
If strichnine gives relief to toil,
Let strychnine's generous juice abound!
Let oil of vitriol cool your brains,
Or, animated atoms brew—
And fill your arteries, hearts and veins
With glee—and infusorial glue!

A LANDLORD recently, going round to collect his rent, sent his servant ahead to prepare his tenants for the visit. On reaching the first house, and seeing his servant taking a survey, apparently endeavoring to gain admittance, he inquired:

"What is the matter, John? Is the door bolted?"

"I don't know, sir," replied John; "but the tenant evidently has."

A GENTLEMAN travelling in a railway carriage was amused by a constant fire of words between two ladies. One of them at last kindly inquired if their conversation did not make his head ache; when he answered, with a good deal of ingenuousness, "No, ma'am; I've been married twenty years."

AN exchage says: Senator Conness, finding it difficult to spell correctly by the Johnsonian standard, proposes a bill to reduce orthography to the phonetic system. Conness at the language and Butler at the finances make a pair of bold troubadours touching their guitars.

THE residents of Philadelphia are so fond of law that it is said children are born with a love of litigation. A few days since a boy inquired the way to Court. "And what do you want at Court?" inquired a gentleman. "I want to sue my nurse for giving me poor milk."

"I DARE say when I take you home again, Charlie, your mamma will have a nice present for you. What would you like best, my boy—a little brother or a little sister?" "Well, if it makes no difference to ma, I'd rather have a little pony."

A YOUNG gentleman asked a favor of his sweetheart, and she replied, "I will grant it on condition that you give me what you have not, what you never can have, and yet what you can give me." What was it she asked for? Answer—A husband.

A WHIMSICAL comparison having been made between a clock and a woman, Charles Fox observed that he thought the simile bad, "for," said he, "a clock serves to point out the hours, and a woman to make us forget them."

A MERRY heart makes sunshine. Every body is warmed and enlightened by it. It exhilarates a whole household. Its cultivation should be general. The world would be better for it, and individuals vastly happier.

$1.000 Reward for its Equal!

THE NEW

WEED

SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in SOLID STEEL MACHINERY, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable

EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete "Lock Stitch," the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from Thinest Lace, to Double Harness Leather!

and of course can never be got out of order by "hard sewing." ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being "first in the order of merit." The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their "Button-hole Machine," but nothing at all on their "Family Machine;" not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an "honorable mention." (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED "F. F." Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the "strong points" of this really magnificent Machine.

S. E. HOAR, General Agent,

Office No. 8 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

H. U. OGBURN & LADY, Woodland, agents for Yolo county, where this Machine will be ever ready to "speak for itself," both to those who see and those who buy. jy4-1y

G. J. OVERSHINER,

I would call the attention of the public to this well-known shop, where I manufacture to order and keep constantly on hand for sale

Carriages,
Buggies,

CONCORD-STYLE THOROUGHBRACE

—AND—

LUMBER WAGONS,

—FROM THE—

BEST EASTERN MATERIAL,

Selected by myself!

All work manufactured at my shop is under my own immediate supervision, and up to the requirements of the times, of the latest style, and the most

APPROVED PATTERNS AND FINISH!

I employ no "foreman," for 30 years' experience in the trade—10 years in the Eastern States, 20 years on the Pacific coast, (including 9 years superintendence of the "Pioneer Carriage Shop," Sacramento,) justifies me in assuming that position. Delegating to none the supervision of my work, I am enabled to Guarantee Satisfaction!

My LARGE and SPACIOUS SHOPS enable me to store large quantities of material, and my

SEASONING FACILITIES,

(the only perfect seasoning apparatus on the coast) enable me to defy competition in quality of seasoned work. For verification of above, one has only to examine my facilities in this line, and compare them with those in other shops. I do not pursue the course adopted by many; on the contrary, I season stock before working, and do not put up green stock in wheels, leaving them to season afterwards. I have and keep on hand a large stock of

OAK and HICKORY SPOKES,

of all sizes and the finest material the market affords. Also a large variety of Elm and Locust Hubs.

Having given the Oak Hub a fair trial, I have become convinced that they are unfit for first-class work. Parties who may favor me with their patronage may be assured that

No green oak hubs will be found in my work!

In this connection I would call particular attention to my NEW STYLE LOCUST HUB, turned from my pattern, and imported expressly for this trade and Found only at my Shop!

Also made to order all kinds of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS!

Plows,
Harrows, &c

I have now on hand Harrows of all sizes, with STEEL TEETH, superior to the imported article. In short, I am prepared to fill all orders, from a Wheelbarrow to a Hornet's Nest.

The PAINTING and TRIMMING DEPARTMENT is equal to the best, and particular attention is paid to repairing and trimming old work.

BLACKSMITHING,

In all its branches, is connected with the wood-work, and both are under my supervision.

I have on hand, for sale,

Plow-beams and Handles,
Neckyokes,
Singletrees,
Stretchers,
Clevises,
Fifth-chains,
Lap-Rings,
Harrow-Teeth,
Etc., Etc.

All kinds of Plow and Wagon repairing done with neatness and dispatch. Determined to adhere to my long-established rule of manufacturing only the Best Work from the Best Stock, and having served my time at the two branches of carriage-work, (wood and iron) enables me to guarantee satisfaction in all cases, and to know, as foreman of my own shop, when work is

WELL DONE.

To those who have heretofore dealt at other shops, and consequently are unacquainted with my work, I would say GIVE ME A CALL and examine my stock and work. Believing that the surest test of the value of my work can be had in the verdict of those who use it, I respectfully refer the public to

The following named Gentlemen who have and now are using Wagons and Buggies of my manufacture: E. Giddings, J. Laugenour, J. Aldrich, Mr. High, H. Rhoades, Mr. Taylor, J. Jones, L. B. Ruggles, Gray & Freeman, J. Garoutte, Fleishman & Kaufman, Ed. Moses, S. & M. Hyman, George Scott, Mr. Ludden, Mr. Olds, Mr. Lusk, Mr. Hurlbut, R. Fritz, J. Lane, Wm. Davidson, and a host of others whose names can be given if required

☞ Thankful for past patronage, I respectfully solicit a continuance of the favor.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only Known Remedy

—FOR—

Diabetes, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, Inflamation of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, &c., &c., &c.

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that disgusting pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

Physicians and Others

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with care, prepared in vacuo and according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded. A Diuretic is that which acts upon the Kidneys. Helmbold's Extract Buchu acts gently. It is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action. For the satisfaction of all, see Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy;

"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, chronic Rheumatism, cutaneous affections and Dropsy."

For further information see Professor DEWEES valuable works on the Practice of Physic. See remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, of Philadelphia. See any and all standard works on Medicine.

Dr. Keyser is a physician of over thirty years experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical college and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia:

Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys; and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts. I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully yours, etc.,

GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D., 140 Wood st.
Pittsburg, Pa., August 11, 1865.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMIST IN THE WORLD.

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN, (firm of Powers & Weightman), Manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Phila.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are genuine preparations, and knowing that the intelligent refrain from using anything pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physicians' simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare Pharmaceutical preparations. These parties resort to various means of effecting sales, such as copying parts of advertisements of popular remedies and finishing with certificates. The science of medicine stands simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, truth alone for its capital.

A Word of Caution.

Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party so offering.
